

COPYWRITER SEEKS TO AVOID STEROID CONTROVERSY.

This August amid very little fanfare, I worked on my 756th account. And while my tendency to improve with age has some looking for a scandalous relationship with my trainer, I have never taken performance-enhancing drugs. Unless you count caffeine.

A natural verbal athlete, my writing has played well in almost every field—business-to-business, professional photography, academia, packaged goods, telecom and outdoor sports, just to begin the statistics. What's important is that wherever the client competes, I always swing for the fences.

I am in the process of moving to Knoxville, where I want to establish myself as your favorite freelance writer. I'd love to show you samples of previous work. So call my cell at 585-746-7082 and I'd be happy to stop by at your convenience. If you prefer, I can also email you a PDF selection of print samples that really turned out to be home runs for my clients.

David E. Rohr

COPYWRITING / CREATIVE CONCEPTS

Cell: 585-746-7082 Email: persuasive1@earthlink.net

Tennessee address: 1227 Lake Heritage Way, #207, Knoxville, TN 37922